

How to Manage your Website

Written by Michael Roggensack

Thursday, 10 September 2009 11:31 - Last revised Friday, 04 February 2011

In order to manage your domain you will need to access your domain CPanel. This can be done by navigating to your web domain 'yoursite'/cpanel (please replace 'yoursite' with your domain name).

You will be prompted for your credentials. Enter your credentials and click ok. You will now be directed to your domain management control panel (CPanel)